

The Indiana law regarding phone solicitation is, I believe, a good first step in reducing unwanted phone calls. Instead of watering down our already good law which has drastically reduced unwanted and annoying calls, please leave the states a free hand to make this good law possibly even better by reducing even further the types of calls that are unwanted. Please let our Indiana phone solicitation laws stand as an example to the rest of our United States.

Thank You,     Steve Cooper             Plymouth, IN 46563